

Wednesday, October 1. 2008

Greatest Fear

My greatest fear is that I will one day die from a massive trauma to my brain or a massive brain aneurysm. And, it won't be from anything physical. It will be because it was holding too much information. Not any real information, but I'll die from adding the useless information like: chocolate is bad for dogs...Oh, God!!!! thunk

Posted by Rory Brown at 16:11